NEW YORK – Troutman Pepper has been recognized in Construction Executive's annual list of The Top 50 Construction Law Firms™ for 2023, earning the No. 3 spot. This is the second year Troutman Pepper was included at the top of the list.

The rankings are determined by surveying more than 600 U.S. construction law firms and using an algorithm to weigh the data. Data gathered included construction practice revenue, number of attorneys, year established, total clients served in 2022, and geographic reach, among other criteria.

"We've been honored to receive many industry awards over the last few years. It's incredibly rewarding to be named a top construction law firm, and it's a testament to the depth of expertise our professionals bring to clients in the space," said Mike Subak, who leads the firm's Construction Practice Group. "We look forward to continuing to work with leaders in the industry on their most sophisticated construction projects and complex litigation cases, as well as providing counsel on their day-to-day needs."

Troutman Pepper's Construction Practice retained its top national ranking in Chambers USA 2023 – a recognition it has held since 2019. It was named among Law360's Practice Groups of the Year in 2021 and 2022 for its standout dealmaking and litigation wins. The firm is also ranked Tier 1 by U.S. News & World Report – Best Law Firms in both the Construction Law and Litigation – Construction categories.

Troutman Pepper counsels clients on some of the largest, most sophisticated construction projects in the world. The firm is also a leader in the total number of complex disputes tried and won in federal and state courts nationwide and arbitration forums domestic and international.
