ATLANTA – Troutman Pepper Partner Mary Weeks has been re-elected to serve as a member-at-large of the Atlanta Bar Association Litigation Section Board of Directors for the 2024-2025 bar year. As an engaged board member, she will help to lead the Litigation Section and advance its efforts to promote professional development, foster relationships, and further community engagement and service.

Weeks represents corporations as well as their directors and officers in complex commercial, shareholder derivative, and securities class action litigation, in addition to handling company's books and records demands, and special committee or other regulatory investigations. Clients turn to her for guidance when facing allegations of all types of shareholder disputes, including allegations of fraud, breach of fiduciary duty, and corporate governance concerns.

Troutman Pepper's Business Litigation Practice Group is nationally recognized for its work defending and prosecuting high-stakes commercial matters in federal, state, trial, and appellate courts throughout the country. Attorneys are experienced in litigating complex multidistrict cases, class actions, and single-case litigations and represent a diverse array of clients from mid-market companies to Fortune 500 leaders.

The Litigation Section of the Atlanta Bar Association is the largest section by membership and is comprised of litigators across the spectrum of practices. It includes plaintiff's lawyers, defense lawyers, mediators, and dispute resolution practitioners, as well as judges from several different courts.
