DETROIT – Matthew J. Lund, a partner in Troutman Pepper’s Business Litigation Practice Group, was recently named to Michigan Lawyers Weekly’s “Go To Lawyers” for business litigation. Now in its fourth year, the program recognizes top lawyers around the state in a given practice area.

Those recognized as “Go To Lawyers” are regarded as experts in their field and well-versed in the nuances of related case law, statutes, and regulations. Honorees also have a demonstrated record of success, receive regular referrals, and think creatively.

At Troutman Pepper, Lund’s practice principally focuses on prosecuting and defending business disputes across various industry groups, representation of officers and directors, and environmental litigation. Lund utilizes his broad litigation and trial experience, along with his commitment to public interest to handle diverse complex civil litigation matters, including federal securities disputes, high-value contract and business tort claims, as well as federal CERCLA and state law environmental matters.

Troutman Pepper’s Business Litigation Practice Group is nationally recognized for its work defending and prosecuting high-stakes commercial matters in federal, state, trial, and appellate courts throughout the country. Attorneys are experienced in litigating complex multidistrict cases, class actions, and single-case litigations and represent a diverse array of clients from mid-market companies to Fortune 500 leaders.

Those recognized as “Go To Lawyers” will be profiled in a special section of the Michigan Lawyers Weekly on May 22.
