DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AG ISSUES SUPPLEMENTAL BUSINESS ADVISORY ON RESTAURANT FEES

By Troutman Pepper State Attorneys General Team

In August, District of Columbia Attorney General (AG) Brian Schwalb issued a Supplemental Business Advisory (advisory) to provide guidance and examples to restaurants for complying with their legal obligation under the District's Consumer Protection Procedures Act (CPPA) to adequately disclose all fees, including service fees, to customers. See D.C. Code § 28-3901, et seq. The advisory clarifies that the CPPA does not prohibit restaurants from charging such fees or surcharges, but emphasizes that "these fees may violate the CPPA if they are not timely, prominently, and clearly disclosed to diners before they place their orders."
