PITTSBURGH, Pa. – Bob Gallagher, a partner at Troutman Pepper and a go-to attorney in the firm's nationally recognized Construction Practice Group, has been selected to serve on Law360's Construction Editorial Advisory Board, which provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

Gallagher has represented construction clients on projects up to $4.5 billion and in dispute proceedings across 31 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, South America, the Middle East, Europe, and Australia.

"As an avid reader of Law360's Construction newsletter, I am thrilled to be a part of the editorial board, and I welcome the opportunity to further engage with the publication to help inform coverage of the construction industry's most pressing legal issues," Gallagher said.

Gallagher serves as the editor of Constructlaw®, a blog focusing on recent trends in construction law and construction litigation. He is active in the Construction Law section of the Allegheny County Bar Association and has been recognized as a Super Lawyer Rising Star in Construction.

For decades, Troutman Pepper's multifaceted construction team has been quickly and effectively handling large, complex problems in a wide range of transactional, project management, and litigation matters. Attorneys counsel clients on some of the largest, most sophisticated construction projects in the world, and are aware of no firm that tries (and wins) more complex disputes, in federal and state courts nationwide and arbitration forums domestic and international.
