“We continue to attract start-up and early-stage high-growth clients who understand the added value and depth and breadth of experience we bring to the table,” said Christopher S. Miller, a partner who is one of the leaders of the firm’s Emerging Growth and Venture Capital Practice Groups. “Our Startup and Early-Stage Entrepreneurial Development \(SEED\) Program now caters to more than 220 active clients. The uptick in the league tables during the first two quarters of 2021 reflects our strong momentum and success of our 2020 merger.”

According to Bruce K. Fenton, partner and co-chair of the Private Equity Practice Group, “We continue to see our private equity clients actively investing in the marketplace even as the uncertainty caused by the pandemic continues. The market remains very hot and is very competitive.”

Troutman Pepper’s SEED Program combines the resources of an experienced, multidisciplinary team into an affordable package for startups, early-stage, and fast-growing companies. Clients in industries spanning software, hardware and other high-technology, biotechnology, pharmaceuticals and medical devices, financial technology, healthcare, consumer products, food and beverage, media and telecommunications products and services, and many others, receive legal counsel, mentoring, relationship building opportunities, and more through every stage of their life cycle.

Consistently recognized as a top-tier national practice, Troutman Pepper’s corporate attorneys regularly handle multimillion- and multibillion-dollar transactions. Core areas of service include capital markets transactions and other significant domestic and cross-border transactions, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, securities laws compliance, and corporate finance. The firm has particular expertise in the private equity and private fund services space, advising clients on matters from fund formation to investments and exit transactions.
