Unique Considerations in Arbitrating International Construction Mega Project Disputes Panel

SPEAKERS

Albert Bates, Jr.

Thursday, June 10 • 4:00 – 5:00 p.m. ET

Albert Bates Jr. is a panelist on Unique Considerations in Arbitrating International Construction Mega Project Disputes at the AAA 2021 Construction Conference.

This panel will offer insights into some of the unique considerations in arbitrating international construction mega project disputes. Discussions will include issues to consider when selecting international construction arbitrators, characteristics of successful international construction counsel, unique document exchange (including email issues, cybersecurity, and GDPR concerns) in the international construction world, the influence of cultural differences on examination style and techniques, the effective use of party- appointed experts, and the use of technology in international construction arbitration.
