

Podcasts | February 15, 2024

Year in Review and a Look Ahead: Unraveling the Threads of Class Action Litigation

The Consumer Finance Podcast

SPEAKERS

Timothy J. St. George | Chris J. Willis

In this final episode of The Consumer Finance Podcast Year in Review series, host Chris Willis is joined by Tim St. George, a key member of our Consumer Financial Services Litigation team. They discuss the significant developments in consumer finance class action litigation in 2023 and what to expect in the year ahead. Topics include ethical issues associated with class actions, the debate over service awards, attorney-client privilege, and more. Tune in to gain insights from Tim's extensive experience in class action litigation and stay informed about the evolving legal landscape.

To download a copy of the Consumer Financial Services Year in Review and a Look Ahead, please click here. For a list of our upcoming webinars, visit our Troutman Pepper Insights page. And to make sure you don't miss another episode of this podcast, please click subscribe.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Financial Services Litigation
- Consumer Financial Services
- Class Action