State AG investigations are different. The lawyers in Troutman Pepper Locke's State Attorneys General practice know this because many of us worked in those offices over a period of 30+ years. We understand how AGs prioritize cases, how they advise other regulators in their states, what triggers multistate actions or private litigation, and how to resolve issues before they escalate. Whether you're facing questions about consumer protection, insurance, pharmaceutical regulation, AI compliance, or other high-stakes regulatory and enforcement issues — often across a patchwork of state regulatory frameworks — we help you navigate AG scrutiny while keeping your business running.
