Tony advises clients on a wide range of insurance and service contract transactional and regulatory issues. His practice focuses on reinsurance, service contracts, mergers and acquisitions, distribution, and insurance regulatory matters.

OVERVIEW

Tony represents clients in reinsurance transactions, including buying and selling blocks of business, excess reserve financing and capital relief, novations, and commutations. He also provides counsel on reinsurance regulatory issues and collateral arrangements. In the realm of service contracts, Tony analyzes regulatory aspects related to vehicle service contracts, consumer electronics, and appliances. He reviews and revises program, administrative, and reinsurance agreements for insurers, manufacturers, retailers, third-party providers, and administrators.

In mergers and acquisitions, Tony identifies regulatory risks, drafts and reviews acquisition-related agreements, and assists clients in obtaining necessary regulatory approvals. He acts as special regulatory counsel for private equity firms and other clients. Tony also advises on insurance distribution issues, including cross-selling insurance products.
