OVERVIEW

Brittany is an associate in the Intellectual Property group, based in the Boston office. She uses her scientific and technological background to assist clients in all areas of intellectual property. Brittany received her J.D. from the University of New Hampshire Franklin Pierce School of Law, where she was a member of the Daniel Webster Scholar Honors Program.

During law school, Brittany served as a judicial extern with Federal Magistrate Judge Andrea Johnstone at the U.S. District Court for the District of New Hampshire. She was also awarded second place in the Boston Intellectual Property Law Association's (BIPLA) Annual Writing Competition for law school students for her article on Material Transfer Agreements (MTAs) and intellectual property rights, which was subsequently published in the BIPLA's newsletter.

Before law school, Brittany worked for three years in the Haber-Maheswaran Lab at the Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center, focusing on the biology of Circulating Tumor Cells.
