OVERVIEW

Caleb represents financial institutions in their capacities as trustee and collateral administrator in various financial transactions. He also represents private debt funds and financial institutions in complex single and multifamily loans, syndicated loan facility transactions, mortgage warehouse lending facilities, and workouts of senior and subordinated debt facilities. Additionally, Caleb drafts commercial loan documents and conducts comprehensive due diligence in connection with commercial real estate transactions, such as REITs, multifamily financing, land acquisitions, and retail renovations.

Caleb's diverse practice includes advising clients on general corporate matters, including acquisitions, mergers, asset sales, and data privacy compliance. With a strong commitment to pro bono work, his practice includes representing local church organizations in establishing affordable lending programs for economically disadvantaged communities.
