OVERVIEW

Craig has been practicing law for more than 30 years. He focuses his practice on the representation of financial institutions in connection with loans and other financing transactions, including term loans, lines of credit, liquidity facilities, letters of credit, and direct purchases of revenue bonds, with emphasis on real estate financing and tax-exempt revenue bond financing. He also has extensive experience representing financial institutions in loan modifications and out-of-court workouts.

REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

Craig's experience has given him technical and practical understanding and knowledge regarding structuring, documenting, and closing complex financing transactions. Examples include:

- Representing an agent bank in a $400 million syndicated construction loan for re-development of the Southwest Waterfront of Washington, D.C. as a mixed-use development.
- Counseling members of a bank group in connection with the purchase of tax-exempt revenue bonds in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $150 million to refinance existing debt of a private university and to finance the construction of additional capital projects.
- Serving as lender's counsel in connection with a $27.5 million loan to finance the acquisition of a hotel property in northern Virginia and its conversion to multifamily housing use.
- Counseling a major national bank, as administrative agent and lender, in connection with a $135 million syndicated line of credit to a private university.
- Serving as lender's counsel in connection with refinancing in an approximate amount of $8 million for hotel properties located in Northern Virginia.
- Serving as lender's counsel in connection with $75 million working capital loan to a pediatric hospital in Washington, D.C.
- Acting as lender's counsel in connection with loan in a principal amount of approximately $200 million to a hospital system to finance the acquisition of an additional hospital.
- Serving as bank counsel in connection with real estate acquisition financing for a charitable organization, including approximately $56 million in taxable loans and the bank's purchase of a tax-exempt revenue bond of approximately $45 million.

Acting as bank counsel in connection with the purchase of a tax-exempt revenue bond in an amount of approximately $26 million for the National Aquarium in Baltimore.

- Acting as letter of credit bank counsel in connection with syndicated direct-pay letters of credit providing support for approximately $150 million of tax-exempt variable rate revenue bonds issued for a private university, secured by deed of trust liens on the campuses of the university.
- Serving as lender's counsel in connection with bridge financing for an affordable housing project located in northern Virginia.
- Serving as lender's counsel in connection with construction financing for an historic rehabilitation and conversion to multifamily use of a property located in central Virginia.
- Acting as letter of credit bank counsel in connection with conversion and re-offering of approximately $167 million of variable rate bonds issued for a private university.
