OVERVIEW

Earle has more than 20 years of experience advising clients across many sectors, including energy, data infrastructure, sports and leisure, mining, real estate development, IT, rail, and education. He assists with procurement advice, appointment of consultants, advising on risk allocation, and drafting and negotiating documents.

In the event that a dispute arises, Earle advises on the most appropriate way of resolving it, whether by adjudication, alternative dispute resolution, mediation, expert determination, or through arbitration or litigation.
