OVERVIEW

As the director of new business intake, Jakeema is responsible for managing the execution of firm policies and procedures related to conflicts and new business intake. Leading a dedicated team of conflicts and ethics professionals within the Intake and Conflicts Services department, she oversees the review of all new clients and matters for existing clients, ensuring thorough risk assessment and conflicts clearance.

With more than 10 years of experience in leading conflicts and ethics efforts, Jakeema collaborates directly with the firm's attorneys to navigate complex conflicts and ethical challenges. Her leadership has been instrumental in the development and implementation of a streamlined new business intake process, significantly enhancing the firm's operational efficiency and client service delivery.
