OVERVIEW

John brings extensive experience in finance law, representing a diverse range of clients, including lenders, indenture trustees, and borrowers. His practice encompasses secured and unsecured financing transactions, syndicated bank loans, stand-by letters of credit, and both subordinated and senior bonds, including tax-exempt bonds.

John also advises on structured financing transactions, workouts, and bankruptcy matters. Additionally, he acts as a bankruptcy trustee and examiner, providing insights into the intricacies of bankruptcy law.

REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

- Represented public utility companies in public debt offerings and private debt placements for an aggregate of more than $3.2 billion of investment-grade debt and in syndicated bank credit facilities with aggregate commitments of more than $1.175 billion.
- Represented creditors, trustees, creditors' committees, and debtors in complex bankruptcy and workout matters, including asset transactions and debt restructuring.
- Advised financial institutions on consumer compliance, including document design and loan procedures, ensuring adherence to federal and state regulations.
- Acted as a bankruptcy trustee and examiner in various cases, providing critical oversight and ensuring compliance with the Bankruptcy Code.
- Represented investors in the workout of a failed structured financing arrangement in the oil and gas services sector.
- Represented a publicly held energy company in a $2.6 billion project financing for the development of two electric power plants.
- Represented an indenture trustee in the bankruptcy proceedings of an energy and waste disposal company, managing foreclosures and sales of assets.
- Represented a state in a municipal bankruptcy proceeding under Chapter 9.
