John leverages deep industry knowledge to provide practical, business-oriented solutions for insurance companies, advising on both regulatory and transactional matters, with particular experience in the complex surplus lines sector.

OVERVIEW

John represents a broad spectrum of clients in the insurance industry, including insurance and reinsurance carriers, surplus lines insurers, captives, risk retention and purchasing groups, insurance agents, brokers, and third-party administrators. His clients value his significant industry experience and ability to deliver pragmatic advice on achieving business objectives and complying with complex regulations.

John's experience encompasses guiding clients through a full range of issues — from licensing requirements to transformational mergers and acquisitions, as well as advising on administrative matters before state insurance departments and sensitive compliance and enforcement issues.

John is recognized as a leading attorney in the surplus lines area, regularly advising carriers and brokers on the multijurisdictional requirements governing this sector. John also serves as co-editor for the firm's Excess and Surplus Lines Law Manual, which annually tracks legal challenges on a state-by-state basis.

John's experience extends to holding company act requirements, restructurings, advertising, producer, TPA, and program administrator agreements, and rate and form filings. He also advises on reinsurance transactions and agreements, market conduct examinations, and the development of compliance programs.
