OVERVIEW

Max serves as a manager of state affairs in the Atlanta office. In this role, Max works to keep clients informed of legislative, executive, and regulatory actions in the state of Georgia.

Before joining Troutman Strategies, Max worked to aid victims of violent crimes in the Paulding Judicial Circuit, campaigned to successfully elect Houston Gaines to the Georgia House of Representatives, and interned for U.S. Senator Johnny Isakson's press and scheduling team. Equipped with a unique perspective of Georgia from federal, state, and local experience, Max helps clients navigate an ever-changing political landscape.

Max currently resides in Atlanta, and is a proud bulldog, graduating from the University of Georgia, School of Public and International Affairs with academic honors.
