OVERVIEW

Nicole serves as a manager of state affairs in the Atlanta office. In this capacity, Nicole monitors legislative, executive, and regulatory actions in the state of Georgia. In addition to keeping clients informed on state government activities, Nicole updates clients on business and industry developments, providing clients with the necessary tools to operate their investments in Georgia.

Nicole is a graduate from the University of Georgia, School of Public and International Affairs, with degrees in political science and international affairs. During her time at UGA, Nicole was a SPIA Ambassador, representing the school at various high-profile academic and political events. Engaging with key actors of Georgia politics, Nicole developed the connections and knowledge to guide players through the state's political landscape.
