OVERVIEW

Rebecca is an associate in the firm's Health Care + Life Sciences department, based in the Philadelphia office. She concentrates her practice on pharmaceutical and medical device product liability and investigations in health care settings. She graduated from Rutgers University in May 2021, where she received her J.D.

Rebecca is also a nationally certified physician associate specializing in emergency medicine. She received her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Drexel University. During her time as an emergency medicine provider, Rebecca served the communities of Camden and Philadelphia with great honor.

Using her unique background, Rebecca counsels clients at the intersections of science and law. She has experience representing clients as both settlement and litigation counsel, and assists clients in understanding complex medical concepts through the lens of a medical provider and an attorney.
