OVERVIEW

Sahara represents clients in the hydropower, natural gas, and electric utility sector before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and the D.C. Circuit. She advises hydropower clients on all aspects of FERC licensing and compliance under the Federal Power Act, as well as issues arising under other federal statutes, including the Clean Water Act, National Environmental Policy Act, National Historic Preservation Act, and Endangered Species Act. Sahara also advises natural gas clients in certificate proceedings and compliance matters, and advises electric utility clients on transmission, interconnection, and market design issues. She is a regular contributor to the firm's Washington Energy Report and Hydropower Report.

Sahara is committed to serving the D.C. area through pro bono work and currently serves as pro bono ambassador at the firm's D.C. office. She is an active volunteer with the DC Volunteer Lawyer's Project to assist domestic violence survivors. Sahara is also an active volunteer with Rising for Justice and received the Donald J. Ridings, Jr. Award for Service in 2024 for her dedication.
