Sheri is a trusted advisor to companies on all aspects of executive compensation. As a go-to resource throughout all stages of a company's life cycle, clients appreciate her forward-thinking, practical advice and ability to navigate evolving and complex issues.

OVERVIEW

Sheri advises boards, compensation committees, and companies on executive and director compensation matters. She designs and documents equity incentives, cash bonus arrangements, employee stock purchase plans, and deferred compensation plans. Sheri also negotiates individual contractual arrangements with C-suite executives, including employment, retention, change in control, severance, and separation agreements.

Sheri is particularly experienced in working with public companies, guiding her clients at the intersection of complex securities, disclosure, tax, and governance frameworks. She provides extensive support to public companies each year in connection with their proxy statements for annual shareholder meetings, and helps them navigate a constantly evolving disclosure landscape.

Additionally, Sheri supports clients on the employee benefits and compensation aspects of their key transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, financing events, spinoffs, divestitures, and initial public offerings. She negotiates transaction agreements, counsels on 280G golden parachute issues, prepares compensation-related disclosure documents, and implements post-closing executive compensation arrangements.

Sheri plays an active role within the firm, where she is known for her consensus-building and solution-oriented approach. She serves in a leadership role within her practice group, focusing on innovative ways to contribute to associates' professional development through hands-on training programs, mentorships, and client-facing practice opportunities. Sheri also serves as a co-founder of the Executive Compensation and Securities Subgroup, an internal group that fosters cross-collaboration between intersecting practice groups within the firm. Sheri is an alumna of the firm's Client Development and Executive Leadership Program, a multi-month intensive training initiative for select partners that focuses on enhancing client relationships, expanding business opportunities, and leading effective teams.

Sheri serves as the president of the Philadelphia Chapter of the National Association of Stock Plan Professionals (NASPP). She also frequently writes and speaks on executive compensation topics, and has spoken at programs hosted by CompensationStandards.com, TheCorporateCounsel.net, Practising Law Institute (PLI), Society for Corporate Governance (Middle Atlantic Chapter), Tax Executives Institute, and NASPP (Philadelphia Chapter).
