Stefanie devotes her practice to resolving complex disputes for managed care payors efficiently and effectively. She brings a wealth of experience to the table, ensuring the best possible outcomes for clients facing their toughest challenges.

OVERVIEW

Stefanie is an accomplished commercial litigation attorney and a valued member of the firm's Consumer Financial Services practice. She has a proven track record of successfully representing clients in a wide range of litigation matters, such as out-of-network provider pricing disputes, contract interpretation disputes, and suits arising under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA). Stefanie's experience also encompasses handling TCPA cases and navigating consumer protection laws.

She has significant experience effectively advocating for clients during depositions and hearings, ensuring that their interests are vigorously safeguarded. Her experience extends to both state and federal courts, as well as alternative dispute resolution forums. Additionally, Stefanie routinely manages and responds to substantial discovery, retains and confers with expert witnesses, and adeptly excavates facts through documentation and witness interviews to construct robust cases.
